Stop Business Overload Cold

Be MORE Successful with LESS Stress

Most business professionals are stressed, even overwhelmed. Some think it's normal and necessary in order to succeed. The opposite is true. Savvy Business Owners make decisions thoughtfully, communicate clearly & grow their businesses purposefully. This is the path to success.

Participants will learn:

- The difference between stress versus excited, positive energy
- How to take charge of distractions and to transition between activities
- How to stop turning disappointments into catastrophes
- How to change the rules of the game in their favor

Quieting Your Inner Bully

Transform Negative Conversations into Amazing Business Growth

Did you know 80% of internal conversations are negative? The Inner Bully is loud, critical and relentless. Learning strategic ways to quiet this voice and sometimes embrace it (when it might be useful) is key to success.

Participants will learn:

- How to “get to know” their Inner Bully and why it exists
- How to effectively speak back to their Inner Bully
- When to invite their Inner Bully into the room
- How to feel empowered by their Inner Bully instead of shut down

Fearless Networking

Maximize Your Huge Untapped Sales Market

Some professionals freeze up when they walk into a networking event. They think successful networkers are born that way. They say, “Why bother?” News flash. Effective networking skills can easily be learned and implemented.

Participants will learn:

- The difference between networking and selling
- How to network in their own voice with their own personality
- How to use LinkedIn as a fabulous networking tool
- How to attract people to speak to YOU at networking events
